

synerzine

Current Product Statements

Dear valued Synerzine customers,

We confirm that all statements available on our website are current and reflect the latest information in accordance with industry standards and regulatory requirements relevant to the flavor and fragrance industry.

Our company has established procedures in place to regularly review and update documentation, including but not limited to allergen declarations, GMO statements, ingredient statements, and any regulatory compliance statements. Should any changes occur, we are committed to promptly notifying our customers and partners to ensure continued transparency and regulatory alignment.

For further information or specific document requests, please feel free to contact us at info@synerzine.com.